

Orange Family History Group December 2012 Newsletter

Welcome to the December edition of our Newsletter.

The end of the year and hopefully you'll all have time to explore some of the options we've outlined in our December Newsletter. Not that we want you to spend all of summer in front of a computer screen or pouring over books but it's a nice place to be in the mid-day heat!

We'd like to thank the fantastic team of volunteers who have added 26,662 entries to the Central Western Daily Newspaper Index which is searchable through the Central West Libraries Catalogue. They comprise:

- 6879 birth notices
- 665 marriage notices
- 4453 death notices
- 1921 probate notices
- 4899 in memoriam notices
- and 7845 other entries of names appearing in the local newspaper.

All this has been achieved by a team of 8 or so dedicated volunteers. It's a great job, well done and one which would not have got off the ground without these great ladies.

Sandgate Cemetery on-line

Newcastle's Sandgate Cemetery Trust launched its website www.sandgategemetery.org.au on 27 August this year. This means that all records are now available online. Approximately 95% of the 88,000 interments in the cemetery have a photograph attached to the individual record and the exact location of each grave is now linked to Google Maps.

On-line Maps and Plans

The NSW Government Department of Land and Property Information (LPI) is undertaking a major digitisation and conversion program to deliver more land records online, enhancing access to many historical documents. LPI is digitising and conserving many different types of land records and plans going back to 1792, and aerial photos back to 1947. Since the program started in 2004, more than 20 million records have been digitised. They are also converting a large number of titles into LPI's computerised Torrens Title system. This includes Old System land, which was granted from 1792 to 1862. The records can be accessed on the LPI website at:

www.lpi.nsw.gov.au/land_titles/historical_records_online [from Newcastle Family History Society Newsletter]

Probate Packets

The latest copy of the State Records News reveals that more Probate Packets have been made available online. Make that 8306 new files to be exact. This latest addition is from Series 4, covering numbers 705058-713363, probate granted up to July 1971. The State Records website now has over 580,000 probate packets to search! They can be found by following the link on the home page at www.records.nsw.gov.au/ [from Newcastle Family History Society Newsletter]

Befriend the Ryerson Index

Many will know about the Ryerson Index, which gives access to various death notices and obituaries. It was started by the Sydney Dead Persons Society during 1998 and is an invaluable source for research. The Ryerson Index is now on Facebook so 'like' them to keep up to date with new developments. Roses from the Heart

In blog posts we've talked about the Roses From the Heart project being undertaken by Tasmania artist, Christina Henry. This is an ambitious project to make 25,566 cloth bonnets, one for each of the women transported as convicts. The bonnets are modelled on an 1860s servants bonnet. The project is nearing completion with 22,000 already created. If you're interested in being part of this go to the Roses from the Heart website <http://rosesfromtheheart.tumblr.com/>

FROM THE NEWSPAPERS:

From the Microfilm at Orange City Library.

Western Advocate 21/5/1898: 'Death'

Beveridge - At "Falkland" March Street, the residence of Mr R.A. Anderson, Lillias relict of the late James Beveridge late of Dunfermilise Scotland. Aged 91 years.

Western Advocate Saturday 21/5/1898: 'Death'.

Our Forest correspondent writes: I am sorry to have to record the death on the 12th instant, at the age of 18, of Miss Maggie Stevens eldest daughter of Mr Wm. Stevens Forest Reefs. The cause of death was typhoid from which others in the district are suffering at present. The funeral took place on Friday, the 13th and the large number that followed the remains in their last resting place in the Millthorpe cemetery testified to the respect in which the deceased had been held. Her parents have the sincere sympathy of everyone in the district.

The Orange Leader 14/10/1902: 'Orange Blossoms'.

At the residence of Mr M. Mitchell, Kite Street, yesterday a quiet, but pretty wedding took place, the contracting parties being Mr W. Grannell, son of Mr John Grannell, Cadia and Miss Nellie Long, daughter of Mr Michael Long of Coffee Hill. Mr James Grannall, brother of bridegroom acted as best man and Miss Josephine Long, sister of the bride filled the role of bridesmaid, she wore a gold brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. The bride was attired in a stylish dress of white silk, trimmed with insertion and lace, and wore a beautiful wreath and veil. She also wore a gold brooch, gift of the bridegroom. The wedding breakfast was laid out in elaborate style, in the centre standing the wedding cake, made specially by Mrs M. Mitchell (sister to the bridegroom). The table was prepared by Mrs Mitchell, being assisted by Mesdames Clarke and Irvine and Misses Hennessy. A handsome and serviceable lot of presents were received.

The Orange Leader 15/11/1904

A good photograph of the Orange Superior Public School football team appears in the last issue of "Town & Country". Mr Filchie head teacher & Mr R. Clayton C.W.R.F.U. representative are prominent figures.

The Orange Leader- 27/11/1908: 'Lewis Ponds'.

I have heard from a reliable source that the state of the Lewis Ponds cemetery does not reflect much credit upon the people of the district generally more particularly those who have friends and relatives buried there. It has a very neglected appearance. The seedlings and saplings growing into trees present the appearance of a wild bush, rather than a cemetery. I think a meeting should be called and steps taken to remedy the evil. (note there is no longer a cemetery at Lewis Ponds, no headstones can be found).

The Orange Leader 18/3/1910: 'Wedding Bells'

Kable-Chater

On Wednesday afternoon the marriage of Miss Ivy Chater, second daughter of Mr A. Dixon Chater of Lord's Place, Orange, to Mr A.H. Kable, youngest son of Mrs J. Kable also of Lord's Place, was solemnised at the parent's residence. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Coller, Baptist minister at Manildra. Only the immediate relatives were present. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in her bridal dress of white silk, trimmed with insertion and silk braid. She was attended by Misses Olive and Elsie Chater, sisters of the bride, each wearing cream voile dressed each wearing cream voile dressed trimmed with lace and silk braid. The bridegroom was attended by Mr Ralph Chater. After the ceremony those present sat down to the supper, at which the Rev. Coller presided and proposed the health and prosperity of the bride and bridegroom which was duly responded to by the bridegroom. The bride's travelling dress was blue voile, trimmed with glace silk and net, with hat to match. The happy couple left for their future home at Millthorpe, with expressions of best wishes for their future by those present.

Lane-Buckles

The Rev. Walker Taylor united in the happy bonds of matrimony at Holy Trinity Church on Wednesday night Mr William Roy Lane, son of Mr & Mrs Lane of Edward Street, East Orange and Miss Linda May Buckles daughter of Mr & Mrs S. Buckles of Moulder Street. The bride was charmingly attired in a costume of white muslin and wore the orthodox wreath and veil. She carried a very nice bouquet. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attended by Miss Elsie Buckles as bridesmaid, Mr William Joseph Maley was best man. After the ceremony the happy couple, repaired to the residence of the bride's parents, where the customary felicitations were indulged in. The happy couple left by the mail train last night for Sydney and Wollongong, to spend the honeymoon.

Williams-Coleman.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at Holy Trinity Church, Orange, on Tuesday night last, when Mr Thomas Williams, of Spring Terrace, Orange was united in Matrimony to Mrs Martha Coleman of Orange. The bride was given in marriage by Mr Oscar Lapham and Mrs John Williams was Bridesmaid. The wedding breakfast was served at the residence of Mr S.H. Eslick, Moulder Street.

The Orange Leader 26/7/1913: 'Boy run over'.

A remarkable escape from having both of his legs broken, happened to a lad named Humphrey Astill in Hill Street, yesterday morning. It appears that he attempted to get into one of Brown's milk carts, while the horse was trotting along. However, he miscalculated the distance between the step and the ground and fell underneath the wheel of the vehicle. The wheel passed clean over one leg, between the knee and the foot and over the thigh of the other. When he was picked up it was thought that both legs were broken and he was taken into Thompson's Hotel. On examination, however, no fracture was found, but the legs were very badly bruised. This should act as a warning to other lads who are given to getting into vehicles while they are in progress.

The Orange Leader 1/11/1922: 'The late Mrs Hall'.

The late Mrs Hall, who was killed at Wellington last week by a train, was in Orange only a few days previously and visited Mrs W. Ross of Bathurst Road. She was twice married and for a great number of years had resided with her late husband at Stuart Town, where he died some six years ago. For the past three years she had resided with her son Mr Thomas Hall, in Nancarrow Lane, with the exception of slight intervals when she was visiting other relatives. During her young days she had some exciting experienced and could relate many of the episodes and hardships that the early pioneers had to contend with. She, together with others, was stuck up by the Benn Hall gang at Nubrygan, when they were the terror of the country at that time. She also came into contact with many of the blacks, who were not quite so civilised, as they are at the present time. She is survived by three sons - Messrs Thomas, Charles (Wellington) and James (railway department) and three daughters (Mrs W. Halliday, Mrs J. Halliday (Sydney) and Mrs J. Kerr (Queensland). Her sisters are Mrs M. Smith (Wellington) and Mrs J. Jones (Bogan Gate. Her three brothers are Messrs Charles Peters (Mullion Creek), John Peters (Tottenham) and Edward Peters (Trundle).

The Orange Leader 23/11/1922: 'Wedding - Blowes-Heggie'.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at Holy Trinity Church Concord on October 18th, the contracting parties being Mr Walter Harold Blowes (nephew of Mr A. Blowes, Orange and Miss Lesley May (Lillian) Heggie eldest daughter of Mr & Mrs R. Heggie, of "Jacksonville" Bangalla Road, Concord West. Rev. M. Watkinson performed the ceremony. The bride was gowned in white georgette and pearl trimmings, with silver hat and looked very charming. She carried an ivory prayer book. The bridesmaids were Misses Ruby and Doris Heggie and they were attired in dresses of pink side, with black hat and shell pink and leghorn hat respectively. Mr Jack Blowes acted as best man. The wedding was a very quiet one owing to the illness of the bride's grandfather. The guests were entertained by the bride's parents after the ceremony at "Jacksonville" when the customary toasts were honoured. The happy couple left later on the honeymoon tour.

The Orange Leader 24/11/1922: 'Personal'.

A report reached Orange yesterday that Mr William Hall, of Wa la Walia, Forbes and formerly a resident of Buena Vista, East Orange, was killed by falling from a moving train near Penrith, on Wednesday night. Mr Hall's new residence was, the other, night, burned to the ground, the damage being (summitted at somewhere in the vicinity of 3000pounds). It will be remembered that Mrs Hall died in Orange, in October 1919. A son is a student of Wolaroi.

The Orange Leader 24/9/1924: 'New Shops and Buildings'.

Just at present in Orange there are a number of new business premises and additions underway. The big additions to Neich's Royal Hotel are almost completed, a large furniture warehouse has been erected for Messrs Low and Co, of Bathurst, Messrs Jones Brothers will be in their new motor premises in a day or two; Groundwater's new jewellery shop is nearing completion; Mr T.S. Leahey is to considerably enlarge his premises; Mr G. Selwood is to erect commodious refreshment room near the Strand Theatre; the 'Orange Advocate' building in Lord's Place is well on the road to finality; Mr McMurtrie is erecting two shops in East Orange; while two more are in course of construction for Mr Matthews, in Summer Street, while the Bank of N.S.W. building and two shops are being pushed forward by the contractors. In addition to these there are about a dozen private homes going up. The building trade in Orange may, therefore, be designated as brisk.

The Orange Leader 16/7/1926: 'Obituary - The Late Mr Harry Ellison'.

Years ago, when Katoomba boasted a string of cabs which spread from the railway gates to Balmoral House and occasionally along either side of Katoomba streets, easily the best of the bunch was Harry Ellison's (says the "Blue Mountain Echo"). Year after year, when Katoomba boasted a show meeting, the blue for the best turn-out always went to Ellison. Mrs Harry conducted "Carinya" boarding house, and the excellent cab service and strict supervision of the house, eventually enabled the worthy pair to enter into something bigger and better. "Carinya" and the cab passed into other hand and the Ellisons entered hotel life. They met with a full share of success and about five years ago took over a business at Orange, a prosperous western centre. Last week-end word came through that the well-known and widely respected Mountain Jehu had passed away in a private hospital at Orange. The body was brought down and interred in St. John's cemetery, Parramatta, where the Ellison clan dates back to the pioneer days. The late Harry Ellison was a good sport and a clean liver. For years he fought against a deadly disease and it will not come as a surprise to hear that he paid full toll in the end. To his widow, the sympathy of mountain friends is extended to the man who is gone, may his sleep be a sound one - he had his share of sufferings this side of the Styx and stood up to it like a man. (Electoral Roll: 1925 - Ellison Henry Oswald (Hotelkeeper) & Ellison Elsie Darling - Station House Hotel, Orange.)

The Orange Leader 16/7/1926: 'Obituary - Mrs George Haslam'

Many residents of Orange will be grieved to hear of the death, on Friday last, of Mrs G. Haslam, at the residence of an old friend (Mr J. Watson), Edgebasten Road, Penshurst. Irish, born, deceased lived with her late husband in Orange for upwards of 30 years, the latter being connected with the firm of Messrs J. Bonnor and Co, for a lengthy period and alter carried on a grocery business in Lord's Place, in partnership with Mr A.F. Stanford. On the dissolution of the partnership, Mr Haslam carried on business on his own account, in Anson Street. On the death of her life's partner, in June 1920, Mrs Haslam went to reside with her sister, Mrs Brown at Edgecliffe. The only care of the old couple was an adopted daughter Mrs Guy Waugh, who died at Manly about a year ago. Mrs Haslam was a prominent worker for the Methodist Church and one of the original members of the Church Aid Society,.She was kindly-natured woman and the very soul of charity and many families can bear testimony to her Christian service to them in the time of want or trouble.

Generous to a degree, no one ever asked her for assistance in vain. Her demise will be sincerely regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. (Electoral Roll: 1913 - Haslam Annie; Bertha Haslam; George Haslam (Ironmonger) - Clinton Street, Orange. Orange Cemetery - Methodist Section - George Haslam - Died 20/6/1920 - 61 years.)

The Orange Leader 20/12/1926 Obituary: 'Mr W.T. Grinsted'.

The death occurred in Sydney, on Thursday morning of Mr W.T. Grinsted a former well-known resident of Orange. For some time past the deceased had been suffering from foot trouble, which prevented him from moving about freely and of late he had not been in the best of health. On Thursday morning he was taken ill and collapsed, passing away quickly. Mr Grinsted was native of Cadia and resided in Orange for many years. At one time he was proprietor of a newsagency in Anson Street, since transferred to Satchell's buildings. Fourteen years ago he disposed of that business to Mr S.R. Nixon and went to Sydney to reside. Until recently he had conducted a similar business at North Sydney. He was an honourable man and was very well respected. Besides a sorrowing wife, he leaves three sons - Benjamin (employed on "Evening News", Sydney), John (a bank clerk at Nyngan) and Herbert, who resides at home. Both his parents are dead the mother passing away about 12 months ago. Brothers and sisters are: Edward (Forbes), Fred (Marrickville), Mrs H. Middleton, Mrs J. Withers, Mrs Pownall and Mrs Topham, all of Sydney.

The Orange Leader - 9/8/1937: 'Monday - Golden Wedding: Hetherington'.

On 10th August, 1887 in Holy Trinity Church Orange By Rev. C.C. Denstan. Victoria eldest daughter of the late Mr & Mrs Samuel Spicer to John youngest son of the late Mr & Mrs Christopher Hetherington.

Central Western Daily 27/8/1963: 'Former sergeant dies 72'.

A former Orange police sergeant died early yesterday morning at Louth, near Bourke. he was Mr Francis William Larkins of McLachlan St., who for many years was in the Police Force at Orange and Parkes. Mr Larkins collapsed and died while on a fishing trip with Mr Reg Wells of Orange a close friend. The ex-Sergeant of police who was 72 retired from the force in 1952 while stationed at Orange. He left on the fishing expedition with Mr Wells last Wednesday. Early yesterday morning he collapsed and was rushed to Bourke District Hospital but was dead on arrival. He was well-known throughout the Orange district.

Amongst deceased's effected was a note, signed "Harry Hall" indicating that he had relatives residing at Heaton Chapel, Stockport, Lancashire, England.

15/10/1919: Sherlock Hewitt (17) tried at the Orange Police Court on 6th October, 1919, stealing; sentence, one month hard labour. To be of good behaviour for twelve months. The Orange leader - Wednesday - 8/10/1919: A spoilt boy.

A young fellow 17 years of age pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny. The evidence for the prosecution was to the effect that the youth was boarding at a house with other boarders and he appropriated 4pounds that had been left in a vest in one of the boarder's rooms. Sergeant Byrne said the boy came of very respectable parents and the father had made restitution of the stolen money. The defendant is a spoilt boy --not on the father's side. He had previously borne a good character, and in view of the fact that the money had been returned he did not press for a heavy penalty. The arresting constable said the stolen money had been used up in betting on race horses. The P.M. in taking a lenient view of the case, believing that the offence had been committed on the spur of the moment said the boy must be made to pay and not the father. The culprit was sentence to one month's imprisonment, the sentence to be suspended on accused finding a security to be of good behaviour for 12 months.

27/3/1929: Sydney: A warrant has been issued by the Burwood Bench for the arrest of Albert Sinden charged with wife desertion. He is 23 years of age, 5 feet, 9 inches high, stout build, fair complexion, hazel eye; scar on jaw, operation scars on left leg and abdomen; dressed in grey tweed trousers, dark coat, grey felt hat and tan boots; a labourer; an Englishman; well known in the Orange District. Complainant Ruby Alice Sinden, c/- Mrs W. Giddings, Lidster's Farm, Cargo Road, Orange.
